Individual membership is open to any resident of a nonprofit retirement community located in Pennsylvania who is interested in the Pennsylvania Alliance of Retirement Community Residents' purpose to share and promote the common interests of residents through the resident organization of such communities. The member may be a resident of a PARCR member community or a non-member nonprofit retirement community. A member is entitled to notice of and attendance at all quarterly meetings and has the privilege to speak and to vote at the meetings. The member may serve on committees.
